Denison Lady's Narrow Escape

Unknown Person Shot Into House. Bullet Defeated. Police Investigating.

Special to The Eagle.

Denison, Tex., March 31.—There is considerable excitement in this city in consequence of an attempt upon the life of Mrs. T. V. Maddox, a highly respected lady. Last night a shot was fired into the apartment occupied by her by some unknown person on the outside. The shot would probably have hit the mark, her person, at which it was evidently aimed, had not the bullet struck some woodwork by which it was deflected from its course. No cause for the dastardly deed is known. The police are investigating and it is hinted that they have a clue and expect soon to be in possession of sufficient evidence to justify an arrest.

A rare musical treat is in store for Bryan people next Friday night, Apr. 2nd, at the Carnegie Hall, when Mr. Rice, the noted tenor, gives a concert assisted by Navasota's best musicians. The Dallas Times-Herald says: Mr. Rice captured the immense audience with the majesty of his singing. Many times as he would reach a climax, those in the audience could be seen to catch their breath, for in the intensity of their interest they had unconsciously stopped respiration itself. The tragic and dramatic power of his voice was marvelously exhibited in several of his numbers. Though the full power of the great pipe organ was used, the singer's voice rose and soared until it was like a silver star, far above a storm, serene and glorious, above the rush and rage below. Three hundred extra seats were provided, but could not accommodate the crowd, and several hundred were turned away. Tickets on sale at Smith drug store.

Gov. Bob Taylor of Tennessee says: Leon Louis Rice is one of the sweetest singers I ever heard. In his voice there are flutes and flutes and warbling birds tangled with smiles and tears. I listened and dreamed I was in Heaven; I floated upon the silver tide of his voice until I forgot that I was on earth. Tickets on sale at Smith Drug Store, 50 cents.

Don't forget the Rice Concert Friday April 2nd, 8:30 p. m. It will be an event long to be remembered. Mr. Rice has an international reputation as one of the finest tenors in the United States.
